

英文 1 學習卷

Lesson 7 From Trash to Triumph

____年____班____號 姓名：_____

總分

請尊重著作權 勿擅自翻印
限定用途教學教材，不得公開販售或流通

I. 文意字彙與詞類變化：30%

- apply 1. Kylie's planning to a _____y for a master's program in environmental science.
- somehow 2. The cat had been missing for days, but it s _____w found its way back home.
- bare 3. During the health checkup, the doctor told Joey that his upper body had to be b _____e, so he removed his shirt.
- scream 4. Aaron couldn't help but s _____m with excitement when his favorite team won the championship.
- dizzy 5. A side effect of Sam's medication is that it sometimes makes him so d _____y that he has to sit down.
- concert 6. The singer was so popular that all the tickets for her c _____t sold out within an hour.
- dazzled 7. The fireworks display d _____ed everyone watching from the riverside.
- discourage 8. Although there is the possibility of failure, this should not _____ (encourage) you from trying something new.
- faithful 9. Sam's friends proved to be _____ (faith) companions during both good times and bad.
- pursuit 10. The police were in hot _____ (pursue) of the suspects who had fled the scene.

II. 文法選擇：10%

- (B) 11. The little girl cried because she didn't know _____ turn to.
(A) who should she (B) who to (C) who should (D) who
- (C) 12. Jerry decided to have his new bedroom _____ blue, his favorite color.
(A) to paint (B) paint (C) painted (D) painting
- (A) 13. The books on this list are _____ I wanted to borrow from the library, but none of them are available right now.
(A) the ones (B) which (C) that (D) them
- (A) 14. These limited-edition bags _____ $10,000 each, but they still sold out within minutes.
(A) cost (B) spent (C) took (D) paid
- (D) 15. Some of the books on the shelf were novels, but all _____ were poetry collections.
(A) some (B) other (C) others (D) the others

III. 綜合測驗：10%

Last night, I was lucky enough to see a musical performance by the Recycled Orchestra of Cateura.

Before the show, I didn't know 16. to expect, but by the end, I thought the whole thing was just magical. The entire orchestra came together to make beautiful music with instruments made from nothing more than trash! It was such a smart idea, as the instruments cost 17. anything.

Perhaps even more impressive, however, was the story behind how the orchestra was formed in the first place. The children in the orchestra come from an area of Paraguay near a huge trash dump, where life appears to be very difficult. Many of these children have been helping their families 18. from a very early age by collecting and selling trash. Yet clearly, they haven't let these humble beginnings stop them from 19. their musical dreams. Nowadays, the Recycled Orchestra of Cateura tours all over the world. They have even played shows with a number of famous rock bands.

20. those kids turn garbage into something beautiful was truly inspiring. It reminded me that no matter how hard life may be, there will always be opportunities to create beauty and bring joy to others.

- (B) 16. (A) how (B) what (C) that (D) which
- (B) 17. (A) nearly (B) barely (C) almost (D) simply
- (D) 18. (A) get carried away (B) come along (C) hang out (D) make a living
- (A) 19. (A) pursuing (B) dazzling (C) encouraging (D) receiving
- (C) 20. (A) See (B) Saw (C) Seeing (D) Seen

IV. 文意選填：10%

- | | | | | |
|---------------|----------------|--------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| (A) potential | (B) attention | (C) triumph | (D) filled with | (E) determination |
| (F) tons of | (G) invaluable | (H) overseas | (I) instrument | (J) encouraged |

Clara Schumann, born in 1819 in Leipzig, Germany, was widely known for her brilliant piano performances. From an early age, Clara showed huge 21. as a musician. Recognizing her talents, her father 22. her to learn to play the piano. She thus did not have much time for childish things, as her days were 23. practice sessions. Fortunately, her hard work soon paid off and led to her first major 24. at just nine years old during a debut* at Leipzig's Gewandhaus.

Clara's career then took flight with many 25. tours. On her travels, her genius continued attracting wider and wider 26.. Besides performing, Clara also wrote 27. her own compositions*. Her favorite 28., the piano, thus became a powerful voice with which to express her thoughts and emotions.

However, Clara didn't show a lot of 29. only when it came to mastering the piano. It also extended to her role in promoting the works of her husband, composer Robert Schumann, and those of their close friend Johannes Brahms.

Clara Schumann's story teaches us that the essence* of music lies not just in creation but also in sharing—a lesson as 30. today as it was in her time. Her journey also illustrates the importance of nurturing* talent and of commitment to one's art.

註：debut 首演 composition 樂曲 essence 精髓 nurture 培育

21. A 22. J 23. D 24. C 25. H
26. B 27. F 28. I 29. E 30. G

V. 閱讀測驗：9%

Music affects not just humans but animals too, often in surprising ways. For instance, even crocodiles show signs of heightened* brain activity when they hear classical music. This is interesting for scientists; because crocodiles belong to a very ancient species*, it proves that Earth’s creatures have been capable of reacting to complex sounds for a very long time indeed. It has also helped scholars to better understand how modern birds and dinosaurs are related, especially in terms of how their nervous systems developed.

In another experiment, mosquitoes that listened to Skrillex’s song “Scary Monsters and Nice Sprites” became less likely to bite or reproduce*. This suggests that certain sound frequencies* can disrupt their normal behavior. Cats, too, react very strongly to music that includes natural noises they would recognize, such as purring* and sucking sounds. When music containing these types of sounds is played, cats often purr and approach or even rub up against the speakers producing the sounds, thereby indicating that it makes them feel happy and comfortable.

From ancient crocodiles to household cats, music seems to have a powerful influence on—and attraction for—a wide range of animals. It’s no wonder then that we’re so fascinated by it too!

註：heightened 增強的 species 物種 reproduce 繁殖 frequency 頻率 purr (貓)發出呼嚕聲

- (B) 31. What might be the best title for this passage?
- (A) A Study of Mosquito Reproduction Techniques
- (B) The Varied Influences of Music on Animals
- (C) The Evolutionary Impact of Music on Animal Species
- (D) A Scientific Analysis of Classical Music’s Effect on Crocodiles
- (D) 32. How does the author support the claim that music has significant effects on animals?
- (A) By criticizing studies that underestimate the impact of music.
- (B) By detailing the physiological changes music induces in animals.
- (C) By comparing the reactions of domestic and wild animals to music.
- (D) By discussing various animals and their specific responses to different music.
- (C) 33. Which of the following statements is FALSE about the effects of music on animals as discussed in the passage?
- (A) Classical music stimulates brain activity in crocodiles.
- (B) Music affects a wide range of animal species in various ways.
- (C) Mosquitoes listening to Skrillex’s music are more likely to reproduce.
- (D) Cats respond positively to music that mimics natural sounds they recognize.

VI. 混合題：11%

Creating musical instruments from recycled household materials is an enjoyable, economical, and straightforward DIY project. Here’s a guide on how to make your own pair of maracas:

Step 1: Fill a plastic bottle with noise-making materials.

Use tiny stones, dry beans, rice, and pasta, as well as paper clips for louder noises. For quieter sounds, opt for sand, salt, or small erasers. Securely replace the cap on the bottle once it’s full.

Step 2: Firmly tape a toilet paper tube around the bottle cap to serve as a handle for each maraca.

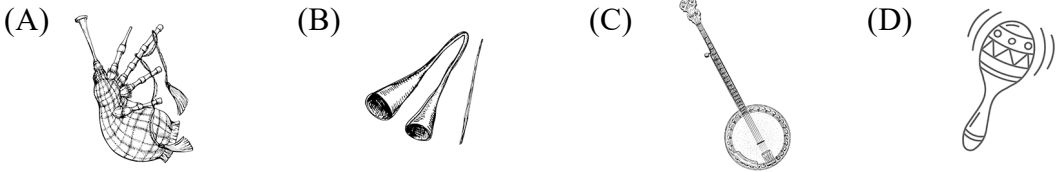

For a more decorative look, use tape with bright colors or patterns, or decorate the tube in other ways.

Step 3: Repeat the first two steps above to make a second maraca.

Try different fillings to vary the pitches. For example, dry beans might give a lower pitch, while dry rice might provide a higher pitch.

Step 4: Play your maracas. Explore different rhythms and sounds by shaking them at various speeds and angles.

- (D) 34. Based on the article, which of the following pictures mostly likely represents a “maraca”? (3%)

35. According to this article, which TWO of the following statements are true about the homemade maracas? (4%) (B) (C)

- (A) The cap of the plastic bottle should be left off after filling the bottle with noise-making materials.
- (B) Sand, salt, and small erasers will produce less strong noises inside the maracas.
- (C) The handle of the maraca is made from a toilet paper tube.
- (D) Both maracas should have the same filling to produce a balanced and pleasant sound when played together.
- (E) Unlike real maracas, homemade maracas can be less colorful and the sound may lack variety.

36. 下列簡短敘述摘記上方文章重點。請從文章中找出最適當的單詞 (word) 填入下列句子空格中，使句子語意完整、語法正確，並符合全文文意。(4%)

Making maracas from recyclables is a simple and cost-effective DIY activity. Start by filling a plastic bottle with different materials, such as dry beans or rice, that can produce different noises, then attach a toilet paper tube as a handle, and finally experiment with different fillings and shaking techniques to create a variety of musical sounds.

VII. 翻譯：20% (37 至 39 每格 1 分，40 至 41 每題 5 分，為一題組)

37. Laura 一直都興奮期待她生日的到來，以致於她前一個晚上睡不著覺。
Laura was looking forward to her birthday with so much excitement that she couldn’t sleep the night before.

38. 子夜鐘聲一敲響，仙杜瑞拉如夢似幻的舞會之夜就將結束。因此，她必須在馬車變回南瓜前趕緊回家！

As soon as the clock strikes midnight, Cinderella’s enchanting evening at the ball will come to an end. She must thus hurry home before her carriage turns back into a pumpkin!

39. 如果你只專注於負面事物，將不會有任何好結果由我們的討論產生。
If you only focus on the negative, nothing good can come out of our discussion.

40. James 和 Alyssa 正請人來裝潢他們的新房子。(S + have + O + p.p.)
James and Alyssa are having their new house decorated.

41. 但他們無法決定是否要為客廳添購一個櫃子 (cabinet)。(…wh- + to + VR….)
But they can’t decide whether to buy a cabinet for the living room.